

ALPS ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENT SERVICES

Capitalize on the evolution in the alternatives market.

The alternatives market is growing and evolving. More institutional money will continue to participate, and successful fund managers who think strategically will be able to take advantage in a big way. Operational demands are increasing, and funds with the right partners will be able to focus on returns, with confidence that obligations will be met and expectations exceeded.

Institutional investors want more transparency. Regulators are demanding more.

Alternative asset managers rely on us to create the operational controls and reporting that institutional investors demand. They count on us to help them meet regulatory obligations, and alert them to new requirements, as regulators continue to focus on this sector. And they appreciate the way our teams fully understand their business, from start to finish.

If you value experience, you've come to the right place.

Perfecting a culture of engagement with a commitment to our people and clients.

It not only personifies who ALPS is but embodies the very essence of how we provide service. Our breadth and depth of experience enable us to provide the insight required to stay ahead in the industry and give practical and valuable guidance to our clients. Our Executive and Senior Management team average over 20 years of experience in the industry and our unique culture has led to a consistent and strong management team.

A continual investment in technology.

ALPS LIVE, our proprietary web-based platform, seamlessly integrates with industry leading systems to create a sophisticated, all-in-one portfolio accounting and reporting tool. Business intelligence, workflow, regulatory reporting and investor services processing are all built in, along with enhanced classification and aggregation functionality for trades, positions and investors. Institutional investors performing due diligence on fund managers and their service providers will receive the flexibility and transparency they require.

A scalable, institutional quality control environment and infrastructure.

As a DST company, we store client data in our own world class data centers, obtain an annual SOC1 Certification on internal controls and procedures, and retain an Information Security program designed to comply with some of the financial industry's strictest regulations, including GLBA, PCI, HIIIPA, the SEC's Cybersecurity Initiative. Our clients and their institutional investors know their data is secure.
